

It's about better living.

For decades, Lake Forest has been distinguished by those who have chosen to call it home. With its gorgeous Lake Michigan bluffs and picturesque ravines, it's no surprise that it has historically been a calming retreat for some of Chicago's finest families.

There is much to do.

Lake Forest has a beautiful beach and many parks. Forest Park Beach features a large beach, swimming, watercraft rentals, play equipment, sheltered pavilions with grills and a fishing pier.

Lake Forest Open Lands has over 800 acres of highly diverse native landscapes for the benefit of the local community. Six nature preserves encompass woodlands, wetlands, and several rare and globally significant prairies, ravines, and savannas.

The nearby communities offer extensive cultural and recreational opportunities, including a symphony orchestra and music institute. Just minutes away is the internationally renowned Ravinia, which is North America's oldest and most diverse summer festival of the performing arts.

Travel to Chicago is made easy through two commuter train lines (Metra) – one located in the downtown area and the other on the southwest side of Lake Forest. For those who want to drive, access to Interstate 94/294 is less than a mile away.

It's the perfect place for your new home.
